

After each week's work was turned in, we were highly encouraged to go back to our layout and improve upon it before the end of the quarter. The booklet should be a culmination of not only other people's design, but more importantly, our individual work to present it in the best fashion.

Initial sumbission of one of the first pages

Initial sumbission of one of the first pages